“Glop de blau” (Swallow of Blue) was taken at the Ciutat de les arts i les ciències in València, Spain by Electra Gamón Fielding. The designers of these structures are Santiago Calatrava and Félix Candela.

The apparent fluidity of the lines is transformed into resistance due to the stark contrast between the ultramarine blue of the interior and the white of the exterior. The angle of the picture gives the impression of a continuous repetition of the motif. “Glop de blau” was chosen as the cover photograph for the UFLR’s September 2009 issue by the editorial board.